

MAYSVILLE, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JULY 23, 1914.

ONE COPY—ONE CENT.

Oh, why should the spirit of mortal be proud?
Because when he marries he draws a big crowd?
If you think that's the reason, it is not by half.
The crowd simply gathers to give him the laugh.—Houston Post.

Mercury up to 96 yesterday.

Mrs. Roy Brown and children are visiting relatives in Covington.

There is reported to be a deal on for the sale of an extensive manufacturing enterprise between Sutton and Wall streets, South side.

Society

Miss Bessie Wells delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Ellen Shanklin of the county and Mrs. Enoch Powell of Ft. Thomas, Ky. There were several score of guests present and the occasion was one of the prettiest and most lavish of the season.

Mrs. Thomas A. Keith entertained Wednesday afternoon with a delightful informal reception in honor of the beautiful and charming bride, Mrs. Keith Frazee Adamson.

The attractive rooms were candle-lit and fragrant with June lilies and American Beauty roses and the occasion was rendered more enjoyable by the sweet singing of Miss Wheeler, who lent to the rhyme of the poet the beauty of her voice. Mrs. Keith was assisted by Miss Adamson, Mrs. Thos. Keith, Miss Wheeler and Mrs. Everett, the Misses Lida and Lottie Berry, Mrs. Robert Blaine of New York, Mrs. George Keith, Mrs. Goodman, Mrs. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Owens. Many guests from a distance were present to enjoy Mrs. Keith's gracious hospitality.

Ralph Shafer Signed by Pittsburgh Pirates.
Ralph Shafer, Cincinnati boy, who has been playing the outfield for the Huntington Club of the Ohio State League, was bought Wednesday by the Pittsburgh Pirates, and will report immediately for trial.

The rise of Shafer has been rapid. He is only a youngster and played professional ball only a season and a half. He started last year with Hamilton, was transferred this season to Newport, then to Huntington.

He played with the Shamrocks and other Cincinnati teams. He was touted by Charles Sturt of the Saginaw Club of the Southern Michigan League, and signed for 1913, but did not report, preferring to finish his high school course.

A GENEROUS HELP ALL AROUND

The glorious rains this country was favored with during the past week has infused new life not only in the growth of everything in the soil, but also into Maysville's mercantile business. Doubtless every merchant in our city, as well as ourselves, has been favored with a decided improvement in trade. Aside from the favorable weather conditions helping us, our price reductions on all of our Spring Suits is a great factor to move them. Again we have a fresh supply of Palm Beach Suits, these will be the last of the season—people who know say our $7.50 Palm Beaches are the best values in the State.
